You will be given instructions for access to the online LifeCollege materials and assignments after you complete your online assessment, which will come to you via email. Personal ministry assessments are part of the training in LifeCollege. You will be provided with an understanding into your natural tendencies for responding and interacting to your environment and people. This helps us place you in a successful ministry position that best fits your God-created design. The Assessment Tools provide a good starting point for ministry aptitude and relationship skills because they deal with the inner man first, rather than outer manifestations or problems. These tools will help you quickly identify possible "hidden" problems and ways to successfully identify unmet needs that could create stress, anxiety and conflict in your life, relationships and ministry.
